

Mali Aluminum Alloy Ladder Cable Tray Brands

Article Overview

Leading aluminum alloy ladder cable tray brands include ABB, ATKORE, MP Husky, and Legrand, offering durable, ventilated, and UL/NEMA-certified systems suitable for industrial and commercial installations.

Key Brands and Features

ABB manufactures a wide range of cable tray systems, including cable ladders, perforated trays, and channel trays. Their aluminum ladder trays are designed for medium to ultra-heavy duty applications, providing excellent ventilation, adaptability for new technologies, and easy maintenance. ABB products are produced in Canada and Saudi Arabia, ensuring global availability and compliance with international standards. ATKORE's C-Channel Swage Aluminum Ladder Trays feature two side rails with transverse rungs, offering maximum rigidity and ventilation. They are ideal for high-vibration environments and allow easy cable installation and future access. Their ladder trays are UL-classified and meet NEMA VE-1 standards, with specialized fittings like Zero Tangent Fittings for compact installations. MP Husky provides lightweight aluminum cable trays that are easier to install than steel alternatives. Their products are CSA-certified, UL-listed, and NEMA-compliant, making them suitable for both commercial and industrial projects where weight reduction and ease of installation are priorities. Legrand offers a variety of metallic ladder trays with horizontal and vertical fittings, covers, splices, and supports. Their systems are designed for flexibility in cable routing, allowing for both horizontal and vertical changes in direction, and are compatible with multiple heights and widths for custo...
