

Ukrainian manufacturers of explosion-proof distribution boxes

Article Overview

PJSC DEG and Warom Technology (via its Ukrainian representative office) are key suppliers of explosion-proof distribution boxes in Ukraine.

PJSC DEG

PJSC DEG is a leading Ukrainian manufacturer specializing in explosion-proof electrical equipment for industries such as mining, oil refining, and chemical production . The company develops and produces distribution boxes, control panels, and frequency-regulated electric drives with innovative technical solutions protected by patents. DEG implements a certified ISO 9001:2015 quality management system and provides full services including enterprise surveys, technical justification, project development, supply, installation supervision, and commissioning. Their products are designed to optimize energy efficiency and production processes, offering significant electricity savings.

Warom Technology (Ukrainian Representative Office)

Warom Technology, a global leader in explosion-proof equipment, has a representative office in Ukraine . While the company is headquartered in China, its Ukrainian office supplies explosion-proof distribution boxes, control equipment, and LED lighting for hazardous areas. Warom products are certified according to international ATEX standards and undergo testing with the PTB German certification center. The company offers post-sale support, warranty services, and technical con...
